

10 Questions to Ask Your Beta Readers

This is an extra resource to go along with the original article:

What are Beta Readers and How do You Find Them?: Tools for Writers Series

1. Were you immediately immersed in the story? Please elaborate.
2. How did you feel about the main character?
3. Were you satisfied with the main character's story and conclusion?
4. Were there any parts of the story that didn't make sense to you?
5. Did you notice any plot holes?
6. Did you think that the supporting characters were fleshed out, or did they appear two-dimensional?
7. Are there any areas in the story that lagged?
8. Did you lose interest at any time during the story? If so, where?
9. Did you feel there was enough conflict and tension in the story?
10. What did you think of how the story ended?