

Inspiration From Fellow Writers

This is an extra resource to go along with the original article:

How to Balance Your Day Job with Your Writing Passion

Print these out in full color and post them up in your creative zone!

If I waited for perfection, I would never write a word.

—Margaret Atwood

A misty, blue-toned forest landscape with dense evergreen trees. The scene is hazy, with the trees appearing as dark silhouettes against a lighter, foggy background. The overall mood is serene and quiet.

A writer never has a vacation. For a writer, life consists of either writing or thinking about writing.

—Eugene Ionesco

The desire to write grows with writing.

—Desiderius Erasmus

You must stay drunk on writing so reality cannot destroy you.

—Ray Bradbury

A scenic landscape photograph of a valley. In the foreground, there is a dense forest of green trees. The middle ground shows a town with various houses and buildings, surrounded by green fields and more trees. In the background, there are large, rugged mountains under a sky filled with soft, grey clouds. The overall tone is peaceful and natural.

Don't be a writer.
Be writing.
— William Faulkner

Write.
Write more.
Write even more.
Write even more than that.
Write when you don't want to.
Write when you do.
Write when you have something to say.
Write when you don't.
Write every day.
Keep writing.

—Brian Clark

